

DO YOURSELF A FAVOUR

For those of you who find yourselves moaning “there’s nothing to do in Perth” stop whining already: BamBOO are all systems go with a fantastic brand new program that will shut you up until May next year (at least). Changing tack slightly from last year, every Friday from October 2 will see a rotating season of interactive performance, food and drinks. The events include Barcelona – a Spanish-inspired night with an ever-changing menu by catering maestros Brush Fork and Pencil, with Luxe Bar’s Sangria de Tinto to wash it down, all set to classical Spanish guitar. Another event that’s sure to sell like hotcakes is Eat my Monologue, a contemporary dinner theatre concept. They’ve selected a series of monologues from current Australian works, integrating a playwright, director, actor and musician each week in a delicious blend of wine, dinner and theatre. There’s plenty more to choose from and season passes can be bought – hop on to bamBOObamBOO.com to check out the rundown.
